DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shiraishi et al. (US 2003/0230829 A1).

A coupling structure comprises a bearing sleeve (4). The bearing sleeve has an inner diameter, a flange, a rear portion and an inner split (Fig. 1-4). The inner diameter engages one end of a screw shaft (1). The flange is integrally formed on an outer periphery of the bearing sleeve (Figs. 1-4). The rear portion is disposed at the rear of the flange that is formed into a size fitted to a recess formed inside of an end of the motor shaft (Figs. 1-4). The inner spline is disposed at an inner periphery of the bearing sleeve (Figs. 1-4). The bearing sleeve is detachably mounted to the motor shaft by fitting the rear portion of the bearing sleeve into the recess and fastening the flange on an end face of the motor shaft with a bolt (6) such that the inner spline serves as the motor shaft spline (Figs. 1-4). The screw shaft spline is formed on an outer periphery on a shaft end portion of the screw shaft (Figs. 1-4).

The bearing sleeve has an annular groove at the inner periphery of an opening for the side of the screw shaft and a ring member (3) (Figs. 1-4).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 2 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Feroy (US 3,329,069), McArthur et al. (US 4,792,255), Takatsugi et al. (US 5,344,303), Hasegawa et al. (US 5,800,134), Floyd et al. (US 5,993,186), Koide et al. (US 6,499,989 B2), Onuma et al.
